

FOOD CONTRACT MANUFACTURING SERVICES

Food Contract Manufacturing Services

- ☑ Do you have an incredible food or nutraceutical product idea but lack the manufacturing setup to produce your product on a large scale? Need someone to take care of your manufacturing process so that you can focus on developing your business?
- ☑ Food Research Lab provides you with contract manufacturing services. You can lay down your product specifications, and we utilize our manufacturing unit and manufacture your products in the required quantity and quality. We have a vast network of farmers, private label food manufacturing services, food suppliers, wholesale food distributors and food company owners to link up with and manufacture your products on a contract basis.

We manage all essential Food and Beverage Contract Manufacturing aspects such as

- ☑ Establishing the basic setup, labourers, equipment and process flow
- ☑ Doing background checks and evaluations
- ☑ Conducting cost analysis and finalizing raw materials supplier
- ☑ Carrying out initial feasibility evaluation for large scale manufacturing

- ✔ Implementing safety regulations and standards
- ✔ Establishing Process Development and Quality Control
- ✔ Documenting and signing confidential disclosure agreements with whomsoever required
- ✔ Getting the needful credentials, certifications required for manufacturing a specific type of product and ensuring abiding by legal guidelines

Opting for contract manufacturing consultants in the food and beverage sector is an intelligent solution since a single company can manufacture not all food and beverage products. Having your product contract manufactured by a reliable company along with trust and expertise will help you reduce costs, save resources and focus on scalability.

The following are essential aspects of the contract manufacturing process that we must give significance.

- ✔ Protection of crucial intellectual property such as the food product formulation, variants of ingredients used, etc.
- ✔ Establishment of direct contact with third party raw materials supplier's liaison officer to address immediate concerns.
- ✔ Verification of the supplier's consistency in delivering the raw materials with the desired quality.
- ✔ Transparency in terms of cost.
- ✔ Listing processes or policies that can ascertain efficiency and productivity.

Our contract manufacturing experts at the Food Research Lab helps you fulfil all these aspects and manufacture your products.

The contract manufacturing opportunities are immense. We save you countless resources and time so that you can focus on scaling up your business while we get the job of manufacturing your products done.
